

Hygieia Consulting Capabilities Statement

Business Summary

Hygieia Consulting supports foundations, healthcare groups, private-sector partners, and others in developing and implementing place-based strategies that deliver measurable, coordinated impacts in communities most affected by systemic racism and poverty. Our approach and change work rely on Hygieia's integrated impact Model and a five-phase strategic planning process that includes assessment, monitoring, and ongoing improvement. We emphasize the interconnected factors that influence health and well-being—such as housing, economic mobility, healthcare, and food—and align with your framework for greater overall impact.

Core Competencies

With decades of experience, Hygieia understands the importance of community-driven, multi-solution initiatives; we recognize the challenge of designing feasible, sustainable plans for effective collective impact systems. The Hygieia team excels in both the tactical and strategic aspects of planning and implementation, with specialized experience in urban settings, underserved communities, and cross-city learning environments.
